

Customer Success Story

Background

Darren Kiesler is the Principal at The Big Door Company. He has worked with almost every door and window manufacturer on the market over the past 20+ years, and the team at his company are Passive House Certified installation experts. Specializing in cutting-edge, large-scale door and window automation technologies for both commercial and residential projects, The Big Door Company is a trusted resource for architects, builders, remodelers, and homeowners alike. It offers custom doors and accessories as well as automation products powered by Summit. Darren turned to Summit Automation when a Customer wanted to motorize their big doors.

Challenge

Darren knew of Summit through working with Andersen, a very well-known and respected brand in the window and door industry. When he looked into Summit's options for automation, he found what his Customer needed.

Our Solution

Summit had the right solution and Customer service to meet Darren's Customer's needs.

Outcome

The motor supplied by Summit worked as needed and The Big Door Company's Customer is very satisfied with the automation.

"I learned about Summit Automation through my relationship with Andersen. Being one of the top window and door suppliers in the business, I knew I could trust their recommendation for a company to supply the automation component."

"From my first dealings with Summit Automation, there were no issues."

"Things are great! The motor Summit supplied works great and my Customer is happy!"
